I took some time to read this letter. It is quite a document. Print it. You may need it for legal purposes. Amidst his notably disturbed thinking, there is a self confession of harassment (writing to everyone important to you), plenty of wishful thinking, totally unrealistic ( i.e. what recent phone call from you?!?) and a clear, potentially dangerous erotomania: the delusion that you will love him for ever, his imaginative rendezvous with you and the conviction that you are a victim of Tom, who in fact wants you dead. He is deranged and potentially dangerous. I think that at this point you and Tom do good by reacting with all the possible weight of the law in order to stop him. I can tell you that in my professional opinion, this person cannot be any longer considered harmless after the way he is evolving and the persistency of his harassment

Carolina how are you doing,

I started out writing this note actually at about 4am NYC time this morning and my phone went dead. Then that's good maybe for me as its contemplating your disappointment in receipt (as sleep hour for you) I know all is fair with Luv but you're allowed to dispute. :).

Here's what's normal :). I miss you. What I missed? I missed seeing and understanding the pleasures, joys, freshness-freshest feelings I've learnt to have awakened in you.

DeBra was right about One Thing - "You Never Looked Happier". So I missed those meaningful gestures you so kindly related as in the forms of honest reciprocal rendezvous toward my honest attribute dedicated to a Luv that's 102% you.

I missed that. I missed those things.

I missed also - deeply listening to you. For the depth of your contritions swerved inside all of my intellectuals.

Thank you for sharing -

Carolina, you have seen the letter I wrote to your d (thank you) because a Tom Gildred Could not touch a heart in such a way.

You, have also seen the letter I've forwarded to your - no Mr. Tom Gildred could have cheered on and at the same time enlightened a towards his commitment he needs to make to a mother as loving as you Carolina.

And,

Carolina you have ] to your

- no woman can sustain a neglect for such affections honestly related in such oral inscriptions - they're all relative to my honest descriptions from those heartfelt moments you've inscribed vocally, with your gentlest touch - even when we scantily, sneaked a hand hold hand gesture at the hold foods market store dinner table.

Don't forget those touch. There at that location and anywhere else, in private parts on known to any but you and I. These are my inspirations-

So last night after the Milonga (& the night b4-disaster with -poor guy who confronted me about Tom Gildred No Kidding- is never your tracking guy - don't tell him your business he's got now values of inheritance emotionally and if he's ask a simple question? That's it for him or anyone who may have confided in

So ignore : - I had a good time as lately I've profoundly taken the opportunity to alert my surroundings why I am an artist to be deserving of there interest.

No to show off or create a solicitation or confrontation it's just a newly found notion to accept the value of who I am and not depend on an audience whom often flip flops on its appreciations of even the best artist.

Once I left the Milonga I came home.

(FYI: Carolina, 2-things; I once in one of our recent conversation over the phone - I said in regards to mine stability- herein was importantly noted and I said - "it's like any other relations or perhaps at times in a relation the man may be in a long or extended trip for work or his partner may become pregnant and he simply needs to understand that for sexual gratification he might just need to wait on her. Yes! It's been my answers and yes they are my answering today).

How fool am I perhaps to ask Yes?:).

Carolina, on the morning of one night you and I met for our days of business in dance and what turned out to be your

Which by the ways - our affair was not a relationship based on boarder line incitements - or Coercement, or was it based on a lack of prudence.

A. It was first brought on my Tom's inadequacies, involvement was so strong inadvertently he push it because he wanted it to happen because he'd had a game plan as he always does.

It fell short - because it was based on his deceit, his own distrust and most of all his retroactive (platonic-impulsive-) existing made it easier to convince himself to deemed that you after all the kindness you have shown throughout all those times when I If so you could have gone with any many who try's at you at anytime out here in Del Mar.

All this time I could have said I Luv you & I am not going too. Hopefully never....!!!

His, Toms mistake was to assume the man in my personality at the least couldn't be shy of the man he'd thought in himself to aggressively counter, captivate, seduce or manipulate his prey even to make it just to be a He was mistaken in an astronomical way about our pulse Tic-toc our heart beats differ

Nonetheless; we have been where we'd been and today you aware of the place you are to be without Michael Easter but with M

Carolina: Tom is that Great Hunter. Who hunts not for meat to feed his fluck but instead he's like the Boar-Master who's only desires is to euthanize his partners (his catch) and inject it and make it stay (in his eyes) alive. It's what he wants or expects in a mechanical wife. when I came into you I did so with reverence to your life and happiness independent of my inputs and I thought so while inside of you to note you are 102% independent of me. Which brings me to (second) 2. Of the nights we were together; You will recall often you'd would volunteer what happens last night. Almost often you'd say - I in other words you a reverence the status of your call of expectations.

Carolina?

If Tom wanted you home early He could have Called you on the phone and say honey - I'm horny. I need you home tonight. I would have rushed you to go home to your headband.

Carolina? If Tom was so concerned he could have Joined you and I and he would have been rightfully in his place. (Carolina? you fell in LoVe that night behind those walls at the salsa party & you fell in LOVES with me over & over again from instances like after the Tango Night which I honestly hide a lot but that lady was determined- eventually when I saw the photos - I gave in :), for the first time I'd never called a my photo as I did not give permission (we did not give her permission).

And Carolina by all honesty? You will never fall out of LOVE because each iota of my affections entrusted to you wards were, and are 2 ( deepest and honest.

I did not invade yours 100%. You gave yourself to him and you honored him, otherwise you would have called him and say Tom I am not coming home tonight and you would have well been within your right and probably in hind sight you should have simply done that.

that being my mistake then so be it - I will live or die with it.

(Took a long write to say 2 things :).)

So Carolina,

I came home from the Milonga last night and I changed my clothes and thought of showering but said I'll be too weird or late shower at 2:30 am just to take a walk? Crazy!

To be honest I was not just going to take a walk - our notes - the notes we've had for these 7-weeks I've been walking with them everyday hoping to find the courage to complete each descriptions layout - it's been a brain wreckage each time - so I was going to walk to the 19th street office -:) yep at 3;15 3:20 am I would be there.

upside down hidden petal first into the plastic bag because I did not want to see them? That hour as he'd seen n I surely assume I'm buying ommates literally next door c

So I :) hid the roses.

with a message to you but my phone kept on and off and dead and I lost the draft - all I'm writing above is as of now.

r in any efforts defeat those affections you've shared with us. I feel you, I and you probably won't know but I'm in complete understandings - and yes - if you had the silver billet you'd strike me for yourself and make me DEAD for ignorance or the lack thereof.

For that Carolina? I cannot reverse - that would be between you and your God? Tom? & your love for Money? Because you need not construed the Love for your children as equated a necessity as to your love for Money.

Things do happen & Carolina your children are children They will or they would have had to understand. They're your children, your siblings or for those others who are friend they'd too would have had to understand - Toms 100% is a lost value in contrast to my 2% of affections you have endured - You Be The Judge -.

You still have the time - your apartment.

all she does is dance and do her art philanthropy- she will help you with a place in keeping with the standard of life in Del Mar while battle toms infidelity claims.

Carolina.

He will hurt you again and again and again saying it's okay within a sound mind you would ask yourself faintly is it? Was it worth it? It will never be answer worth the risk.

Stand now - I

Schooling and worse he will not hold the right anymore as a manipulative deceitful husband to affect your life.

that's continually threatening that you cannot call a friend a true friend and love (friend) at would mean I'd intentlv had sex with you - not the case. Each time I think of you I'm bles remember you Carolina I remember a friend and I conunually want to think of holding you close but I can't because I've been thoug and for the love of your kids (which that love should be redirected into DWM) only love you'd need to have now Carolina? Is the love for you - T

I'm not stly facilitate that. I'd either but I'm sure it's worth more than w use he has money that he can call you whatex Cheers! Carolina.

B Blessed.
